

Tweenhills Farm & Stud - Monday 26th September

My last week at Tweenhills was mainly spent outside helping in the yard with the general goings on; mucking out, yearling prep and watching the farrier. As it is quite a quiet time of year some of this time was spent with maintenance jobs such as digging the sides out of the lunge pit and creosoting - which I have now realised burns the skin a lot and I did look rather suspect with a red spotty rash all over my arms for a few weeks after!

As the weather was hot and sunny it was just nice to be outside. When in the office, I was updating the database with the recent flu jabs, pregnancy testing results, rug purchasing and shoeing so everything could be invoiced correctly.

My time at Tweenhills was finished off with a nice barbeque hosted by the stud groom Ben on the Friday evening, before I headed off the Newsells on the Saturday.
